Class Snaps

Mr. Mathison looks up while teaching his senior sociology class.

One Plus One

Mr. Bogue has his chemistry students working those "easy" chemistry problems. Right, class?

Mr. Hiaring looks over his freshman general science class.

There are several different units of speech. Here as a part of the dramatics unit the students apply make-up to each other.

The drivers' training class attempts to make safer drivers for future years.

Question Seven

The girls' physical education classes played many different sports during the year. Here the girls try their hand at basketball.

The Typing I students busily type on as Mr. Balfany checks their style.

Mr. Simpson shows the freshman an algebra problem.

Mr. Campbell's boys seem to be diligently studying their world geography.

This freshman English class must be reading a funny story. How about it, kids?

Class Snaps Days of Thrills and Laughter

Here are three "future homemakers of tomorrow" reading tomorrow's home-making assignment.

Artists at work! Art proves to be both relaxing and challenging work for the student.

Central students find it very educational to spend some time reading in the library.

American history proves interesting to these students in more ways than one.

The boys' physical education classes played volleyball.

Activities

Annual Staff Wake Me When It's Over

Mr. Merlin Hiaring was adviser of the annual staff. Ellen Lincoln was editor. These two spent many hours organizing and collecting material for the 1961-62 Interlakes. They directed and helped the staff and kept the wheels of progress in motion.

Nora Kuchenbecker was typist for the annual. The staff really kept her busy.

THE 1961-62 INTERLAKES STAFF.

All in a Night's Work

Annual Staff

Carolyn Weber and Kendra Erickson put together the faculty and class sections.

Brian Campbell and Roger Tucker were the photographers for the Interlakes.

Karen Schmidt (left) did the write-ups for the annual. Gay Lynn Johnson and Susan Rentz worked on special events.

Nancy Bakke and Lois Meyer did the activities section of the Interlakes.

Maroon Staff Let No Man Write My Epitaph

Adviser for the Maroon this year was Mr. Merlin Hiaring. Barb Keever (left) and Patti Blair (right) were co-editors.

Ray Thomas, Ronnie Scovill, and Frank Leach wrote sports for the Maroon.

Feature editors were Peggy Peck, Barb Laughlin, Kathryn Liddiard, and Shirleen Olson.

The MHS band is one of the truly great bands of South Dakota. Bill and his band have won honors in many parts of the country. This summer the band will take part in a national marching contest in Mason City, Iowa. This is a part of the premiere of the movie, "Music Man." Good luck, band! Win or lose, you will always be a great band to us.

The band performs at all football and basketball games during the year. They play for pep meetings. As a concert band, the MHS band took another first in the music contest. Every spring the band has its spring concert. Summer brings marching and several trips for Bill and his band. This summer the band will use its new band shell for its summer concerts.

To you, the MHS band, we, Central students, give our congratulations and thanks for your wonderful work.

Special Events

Homecoming The Most Wonderful Moment

Homecoming King and Queen - BARB KEEVER and BOB KESSLER.

High Time

Flames roared high, but yells roared higher at the MHS annual bonfire.

The students enjoyed dancing "on the moon" to the music of Chuck Anderson and his combo.

Homecoming

The mixed ensemble - Jeryl Lindstrom, Murphy Richardson, Mary Strand, David Rich, Mary Palm - entertained with a lovely "Medley of Songs" before the coronation.

"Miss Moon," built by the junior class, A-L, portraying an array of moon and stars, and lovely girls, was judged most beautiful.

Led by the Homecoming king and queen, the Royalty started the dance with a grand march.

Christmas Program

White Christmas

1. Virginia Casey. "Panis Angelicus."

2. Ellen Lincoln. "There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Field."

3. All-State Chorus. "Did Mary Know?", "Jingle Bells," "Song of Peace," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor."

4. Senior Ensemble. "Mary Had a Baby," "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

5. Mixed Chorus. "Noel Alleluia," "Sanctus," "Gloria in Excelsis," "Dona Nobis Pacem."

6. Girls' Glee. "Alleluia," "The Triumph of the Skies."

The Christmas Carol

Christmas Program

1. Girls' Quartet. "Little Drummer Boy," "Three Provincial Carols."

2. Mr. John Balfany provoked laughter and applause as he accompanied the girls' quartet with the finger cymbals.

3. Junior Ensemble. "Deck the Halls," "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas."

4. Sophomore Ensemble. "White Christmas," "Carol of the Bells."

5. Sophomore Girls' Glee. "No Man is an Island," "Velvet Shoes."

Follies

Cry for Happy

Juniors, Carol Meyers and Stuart Tidblom, were crowned King and Queen of the 1962 Follies.

Bob Kessler did a fine job as Master of Ceremonies of the Follies.

The Greatest Show on Earth

Follies

The audience joined in singing three of the final songs in the senior skit. They were really singing and swinging with Rich!

The dance of the tin soldier and the little girl doll was a high spot in the junior skit.

Though Sleeping Beauty slept peacefully, her dreams were really swinging! Here we see the Charleston, one of the many dances in the freshman skit.

Sweetheart Ball

Come Dance With Me

King and queen of the Sweetheart Ball were Donna Hallenbeck and Dean Randall.

Decorating for the Horizon Club sponsored ball was fun. Here the girls are stuffing a big heart. Anything to add beauty and romance.

Bill Johnson's Combo provided music for the Ball. Steve Johnson displayed his talent on the piano.

Bonnie Kortman was kept busy at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Clifford Beach, adviser, enjoys a dance among the array of balloons and hearts with her husband.

Bill Ireland holds the attention here. What do you suppose he is telling them?

All School Play

The all-school play, "You Can't Take It With You," was a delightful comedy in three acts.

The story was centered around a very unusual family. Everyone did just what he or she wanted to do. They didn't follow society.

Alice, their daughter who did follow society, but loved her family, fell in love with Tony, the son of the rich socially known Kirby family. Family differences almost drew Tony and Alice apart, but Grandpa fixed things up.

The play combined fun and work for the cast.

Mr. Dockendorf did a wonderful job of directing and the cast enjoyed working for him.

Annual Signing Party Come September

Pens flew and voices buzzed at the annual signing party. For many seniors of '61 this was a final reunion before zooming off for college.

POLIO AUCTION

The senior boys really had fun auctioning goodies. - Oops! Looks like Bob is snatching some.

High bidding brought happy results for Donna. If you don't believe it, just ask the pup!

SURPRISE PACKAGE

Jim auctions a box of candy. And what is in the bottles - one never knows.

I Aim at the Stars

Barbara Laughlin was chosen DAR representative from Madison Central High School. The nominations were made by the senior class and the faculty selected the candidate from these nominees. To be eligible for the award one must have the following qualities: dependability, outstanding leadership, service, and patriotism in her church, school, and home life.

D. A. R.

Boys' State

Jerry Southmayd, Dan Bohl, and Larry Krueger represented Central this year at Boys' State. They ran for various government offices and studied our government. Boys' State was held in Aberdeen.

Girls' State

Sonna Lotspeich and Janice Jensen represented Central at Girls' State this year. It was held for a week in Mitchell where the girls studied government functions and ran for various offices.

Assemblies

The "Singing Engineers" from the School of Mines sang at Central again this year.

Ray Thomas, Jim Olson, and Bob Yerrigan aided this scientist in a scientific experiment.

Mr. Parker presented to Mr. Thompson, Mr. Southmayd, and the school this portrait of a fellow central graduate and a present and long-standing Senator of South Dakota, Karl Mundt.

Pocketful of Miracles

This baby leopard was quite a rascal and quite a hit with the students.

The students learned much about nuclear power and the different types of rockets this year.

Congressman Ben Rifel talked to the Central students.

Walk Tall

Awards Day

"I Dare You" awards were presented to Ellen Lincoln and Jeff Olson.

These awards go to an outstanding senior boy and girl for both scholastic ability and activity participation.

Dan Bohl was elected student president for 1963. Dan was surprised!

Carol Terry received a trophy for her outstanding work in Home Economics.

Our local declam winners presented a trophy to Mr. Southmayd and the school.

M. Strand and M. Richardson won trophies and first places in both regional and state declam contests. The plaque is for winning the sweepstakes.

Murphy Richardson presents his state Edna Means trophy to the school. He won this by a first in the state with one of her selections.

Awards Day

Say One for Me

Mr. Bogue presents Elizabeth Larson, Larry Malinkowski, and Sonna Lotspeich with medals for placing first in the chemistry and physics divisions of the science fair.

Nora Kuchenbecker, Pat Blair, and Georgia Amonson received awards for GAA participation.

Miss Wenzel presented Betty Skaff an award for her work in FHA this year.

Ronnie Scovill was our athletic manager. Mr. Mathison recognized and thanked Ronnie for his good work.

Journalism awards were presented by Mr. Hiaring to the seniors on the Maroon staff.

Aren't We Wonderful

Annual awards were presented to Ellen Lincoln, Nora Kuchenbecker, and Carolyn Weber for three year participation on the staff.

South Dakota State College invited five Central seniors to visit them on scholarship day. Mr. Southmayd presents certificates recognition for achievement in scholarship to Ellen Lincoln, Mary Jane Kaisersatt, and Sandra Moose. Not pictured are Barb Laughlin and Randy Reichert. Mary Jane and Randy received scholarships.

Jeff Olson, Joan Anderson, Sonna Lotspeich, Jim Campbell, Nora Kuchenbecker, and Judy Bohl placed first with instrumental solos at the regional contest.

Awards Day

This year four Central boys tried their hand at golf and succeeded. The boys are Jerry Southmayd, Greg Gile, Tom Blair, and Roger Southmayd.

Medals were presented to E. Lincoln, soprano; V. Casey, soprano; and M. Richardson, baritone; for first place in the regional contest. Not pictured, J. Lindstrom, mezzo soprano.

Banquet

The Big Night

Virginia Casey read the class will for the 1962 Junior-Senior Banquet.

Rose Mullaney read the class prophecy.

Stuart Tidblom, junior class president, was master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Bob Kessler, senior class president, gave a little speech and a word of thanks to the juniors for a wonderful banquet.

Miss Joan Baillon was guest speaker at the banquet. Her speech, "Moon River Anthology," left us with thoughts for the future.

We were ushered to our seats upon entering.

The tables were decorated in the oriental style. The students waited for the banquet to start. Everyone was really hungry.

The junior ensemble created the oriental mood with "Japanese Sandman" and "I Enjoy Being a Girl."

A Night to Remember

Prom

The music of Chuck's Combo provided entertainment and fun at the prom.

Tables decorated with spring flowers and the brick wall around the room created the mood of a Japanese garden for these students.

Punch was served oriental style, too, by our prom waiters and waitresses.

The faculty had an evening of fun, too.

These couples enjoyed dancing to the music in the garden. The mood was divine.

This beautifully painted mural was the main attraction at the north end of the dance floor.

Jim looks like he's having fun with his little Japanese friend.

Baccalaureate

Brink of Life

Baccalaureate for the fifty graduating seniors was held May 27, 1962 at 8, in the high school auditorium. Relatives and friends were present.

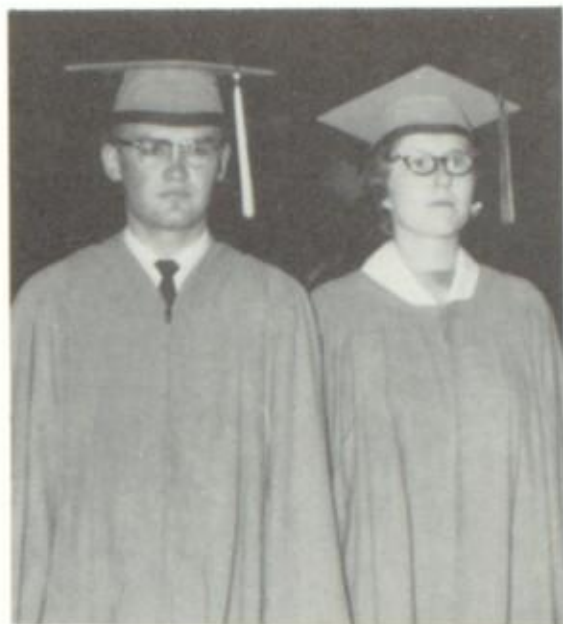

Reverend Condon Terry gave the invocation, the baccalaureate sermon, and the closing benediction. His message, "The Search For the Best Good," was enjoyed by all.

The girls' glee and the mixed chorus directed by Miss Schroeder each sang two numbers.

Good Bye Again

The graduates marched in to "War March of the Priests" played by the MHS band.

W. M. Willy president of the Security Bank, presented "From Horse and Buggy to Man and Missile" for the graduation address.

Graduation

Linda Warns, an honor student, received a scholarship to General Beadle from Madison's Rotary Club.

The American Legion Citizenship Award was presented to Mary Strand.

Mr. Southmayd presented to Murphy Richardson and Mary Strand Student Council Speech Awards.

The Kiwanis Scholarship Medal to an outstanding freshman scholar went to Carol Terry.

The mixed ensemble sang two selections for graduation. The girls' quartet sang four.
